TEACHERS VISIT LEXINGTON SCHOOLS

Misses Julia French, Mamie Hughes
And Sallie Munday Inspect Public School System in Lexington.

Misses Julia French, Mamie Hughes and Sallie Munday, popular teachers in the Winchester Public Schools, visited Lexington Friday, in company with four teachers from Mt. Sterling, for the purpose of inspecting the public school system there. The Lexington Herald, referring to the visit, says:

"The visitors confined their inspection to the Maxwell street school finding it inconvenient to make the rounds of all the schools in the city, and believing that they could observe the working of the system in one school as well as in a visit to all. Of the number making the trip three came from Winchester and four from Mt. Sterling. The former were attracted here through hearing of the excellent work of former principal of Maxwell school, Prof. E. F. Darnaby, at present the efficient superintendent of the public schools at Winchester.

"The teachers were generally most interested in the work of the grade she taught in her own home, and so decided to spend the day in the room where such grades were taught in the Maxwell school. All the visitors expressed themselves as having spent an enjoyable and profitable day, both with the teachers and pupils and complimented especially the unusually good order and attention of the latter. At noon an enjoyable luncheon was served to the visitors. The Winchester teachers were the Misses Julia French, Mamie Hughes and Sallie Munday. The visitors from Mt. Sterling were the Misses Mary Welsch, Mattie Hoffman, Lucy Owings and Bessie Robinson."

COMPULSORY PRIMARY BILL

State Collocurs in All The House
Changes in Measure, But They Do
Not Affect The Seventh District
Election on March 16.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 23.—The Senate concurred in all the House amendments to the Compulsory Primary bill, but adopted also the following amendment by Senator Hogg: "And provided further that where a political party has before the passage and approval of this act made a call under its party law for a primary election for convention for the nomination or nominations of its candidates to be voted for at November election in 1912, then no nomination of nominations by such parties for such offices shall be made in the primary election held under this act in the year 1912."

The amendment was adopted by 21 to 12.

The emergency clause still remains in the bill, but the amendment cannot affect primaries or conventions already regularly called. This means that the Seventh District Congressional primary on March 16 will be held according to the call of the Democratic Committee.

The House adopted the Hamilton substitute for the prevention of corrupt practices in elections and the bill as amended by substitute passed 59 to 13. The bill provides for publication by candidates of their expenses five days before the election and also twenty days after the election.

The bill, which is one of the administration measures, will now go to the Senate.

THE STORY OF CINDERELLA

As Told by Motion Pictures, is One of The Prettiest Shown on Canvass at The Present Time.

The simple old tale of Cinderella has been wonderfully elaborated. The Selig version exhibits many beautiful dramatic surprise to those whose memory still clings to the original. The story as arranged by Henry K. Webster is a big modern rapid fire drama with all the sweetness and simplicity of the old nursery tale and is told in three full reels.

The first reel opens with the death of Cinderella's mother. Presently the designing widow enters the grief stricken home, and by her false sympathy wins the regard of Cinderella's father, who later marries her. Before long he leaves on a long journey and Cinderella is forced to act as slave to her new step-mother and two step-sisters. They abuse and mistreat her until she is forced to leave the house in rags.

Footsore and weary she takes refuge in a deserted garden and falls asleep on an old stone bench. In the meantime the King has chosen a wife for Prince Charming. But the Prince has ideas of his own about love and marriage, and refuses the King's mandate. Furious, the King thrusts his son in prison. He escapes and changes his garments for those of a ragged milk vender. On his wanderings he finds Cinderella asleep on the bench. She awakes and he allays her hunger with his own crusts of bread.

The strange fellowship in adversity mellow into love, and the disguised Prince gives her a ring in the design of a lover's knot, taking in return a lock of her hair. The girl returns to her kitchen with a new world in her eyes, while the Prince dreams of his tattered Princess.

Second Reel

The King issues a proclamation announcing that if the Prince will return he may marry whomsoever he will. The Prince, overjoyed, returns. Cinderella, now happy and carefree, pays little heed to her daily abuse and ill treatment. She finds great comfort and solace in the ring and its memories, until one day the Prince is pointed out to her, and in him she recognizes her milk vender. And so again her childish dreams are shattered. The King gives a grand ball in honor of his son. The step-mother and sisters go, leaving Cinderella behind, broken hearted. Her Fairy Godmother comes to her assistance, however, appearing suddenly among the pots and pans. She waves her wand, and tells Cinderella to rub her ring three times. A huge pumpkin appears on the table, again, and a cage full of rats appear. Once more, and Cinderella's rags are transformed into a beautiful gown, while the pumpkin and rats become a coach and six with a full complement of coachmen and footmen. So it is possible for Cinderella to attend the ball, the only requirement being that Cinderella leave the palace before midnight. Cinderella agrees and departs for the ball in state.

Third Reel

At the ball, Cinderella captivates the Prince and his guests with her beauty. To him she looks familiar, but she steadfastly refuses to divulge her identity. Cinderella so thoroughly enjoys her evening with the Prince that she forgets the approaching midnight hour until it arrives. Then suddenly remembering her godmother's admonition she rushes from the palace; but in doing so she loses one of her slippers. Later the Prince finds the slipper and sends his couriers throughout the land, announcing that the owner of the foot that fits the slipper shall become his wife.

Of course the wicked step-mother and her two daughters try to prevent Cinderella from trying on the slipper; but the courier tells them none shall be denied the chance. And so—she becomes a Princess. The Prince is not present during the fitting of the slipper, for he has retired to that old stone bench in the deserted garden, there to dream awhile.

But the instant the slipper is upon the foot of Cinderella her rags once more change to beautiful raiment, to the astonishment and chagrin of her step-mother and sisters. The coach is waiting; and with a woman's intuition, she goes at once to the garden, where she finds her Prince. And they live happily ever after.

PROSPECTS FOR NORTH MIDDLETOWN ROUTE

Are Exceedingly Bright, According to Mr. L. P. Bell, of the L. & N. Engineering Department.

Squire John J. Redmon, of North Middletown, and Mr. L. P. Bell, assistant engineer of the L. & N. Railroad, were in this city Friday morning taking options to secure the right of way for the proposed new line through North Middletown.

Mr. Bell states that prospects for the North Middletown route are very bright, because of the active interest manifested by the citizens in that section.

Little difficulty is being encountered in securing rights of way, the options having been taken on all property to that of Mr. Harvey Rogers, of this county, and practically as far as Gordonton.

The Paris News in commenting on the situation says: "The work of securing the right-of-way from North Middletown to Helges Station, for the proposed new line that will connect with the L. & E. Railroad in Clark county, is progressing rapidly, and it is thought that the work east of North Middletown will have been finished up this week, and a start made toward Paris."

"So far eighteen signatures have been obtained to the options, from land owners east of North Middletown, eleven of these called for free donations of land, while seven land owners wanted reasonable amounts, in many cases less than fifty per cent of the valuation of the land. A number of others not yet seen have communicated their intention to donate passway."

"Many land owners along the route reside in Mt. Sterling, and the committee, working in conjunction with Mr. L. P. Bell, of the L. & N. Engineering Department, went to that city, Monday, and held a conference with the owners, which was highly satisfactory to Mr. Bell and the committee."

"The citizens of Paris and Bourbon county have at last begun to realize the importance of this North Middletown extension."

"That it is absolutely vital to Paris to have this line run by way of North Middletown instead of by Winchester, is shown by the fact that it is hard to estimate the amount of freight the L. & N. Company expects to haul over this line."

"To give the people of Paris and Bourbon county some idea as to its importance, it is said that the C. H. & D. Railroad alone has promised the L. & N. Company five hundred cars of freight every twenty-four hours. All this traffic which goes to Cincinnati and is distributed from that point will pass through Paris."

TRINITY MISSION

Sunday school at 2 o'clock, conducted by the superintendent, Mr. Graham Johns. Evening prayer and sermon at 3 o'clock by Archdeacon Wentworth.

TWO FAMOUS MISSIONARIES

A. E. Corey, of China, And Dr. Royal
J. Dye, of The Congo, in Africa, to Speak in This City.

At the morning service of the christian church Sunday, A. E. Corey, President of Nanking University, China, will deliver a notable address.

He is a gifted orator and will give some interesting first-hand facts relating to the origin of the revolution that has within the last few days culminated in changing China from a monarchy to a republic. He is considered one of the most influential "foreigners" in the Chinese Empire, and at this time, when all eyes are turned toward that country, his coming is specially opportune.

At the evening service at 7 o'clock, Dr. Royal J. Dye of Bolenge, Africa, will be the speaker. He is the pastor of perhaps the most remarkable mission church of all Foreign Mission fields. It is situated at Bolenge, a town in Central Africa, squarely at the equator. The members of his congregation were formerly naked savages, many being cannibals. Now his church, with a membership of 700 is deeply religious and consecrated. Every nine members support a native missionary, about seventy-five in all, so that from this great church the gospel light is shining for hundreds of miles in all directions among the savage tribes of the Dark Continent.

Dr. Dye's story of this transformation, which has been wrought out under his superb leadership, is one of the marvels of missions.

All are invited to hear these two addresses. No offering for missions will be taken at either service.

CLAIRVOYANT ROBS CREDULOUS WOMEN

Louisville "Seer" Told One to Place
$2,900 in Bag Around Her Neck
And it Would Increase; She Got Tissue Paper Back.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 24.—Dr. Uriel Buchanan, a clairvoyant, who was indicted Friday for grand larceny, is said to have swindled scores of Louisville women of sums ranging from a few dollars to as high as $2,000.

This last sum he said to have secured from Mrs. Viola Frey. He told her that if she would put money in a chamois bag around her neck and let him hypnotize her the money would grow fabulously. She did this but when she opened the bag it contained tissue paper.

Mrs. Daisy Carrol lost $300 in the same way. Another woman paid $100 for a drug that would make a pot of gold from one piece.

Buchanan's total operations are said to reach thousands, and he has disappeared.

MINISTER WORKS CONFIDENCE GAME

Obtains $80,000 From Two Victims
by Kneeling Them at Prayer.—
Sentenced to Pen.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 24.—Aaron B. Donaldson, a mining promoter and former Methodist minister, was sentenced Friday in Judge Shirley's Court at Taylorsville, Ill., to an indeterminate term of from one to fourteen years in Chester Penitentiary for alleged operation of a confidence game, by which it is charged he got $80,000 from Joseph Downs and Mrs. Oro Ridgley, of Assumption, Ill.

Donaldson was sentenced in St. Louis, to serve three years in prison, and has been at liberty on an appeal bond on a similar charge about months.

Mrs. Ridgley, who is a daughter of Downs, testified that Donaldson got into their confidence by kneeling with them at family prayer in their home at Assumption. He addressed her in endearing terms, one of which was "Buttercup," she said.

Downs said that Donaldson induced him to invest $78,720 in mining enterprises, and retained all but $10,000 of it for his own use.

Downs said Donaldson told him the firm owned valuable lands in Butler and Wayne counties, Missouri, and were capitalized at $1,500,000.

EIGHT MINERS KNOWN DEAD

Worst Disaster of the Kind Ever Known in Oklahoma May Run
Up Death Roll to a Higher Figure.

Lehigh, Okla., Feb. 24.—Eight miners are known to be dead and possibly a score others entombed and believed to have been determined. The blaze started shortly after noon Thursday in mine No. 5 of the Western Mine and Coal Company, a Gould property.

When the fire broke out 300 feet below ground nearly 200 miners, mostly foreigners, were at work in the shafts and word of the disaster immediately was spread through the mine.

Most of the men escaped through an abandoned shaft, the outlet to which was more than two miles from the entrance to the main shaft.

The fire soon spread all over the main shafts. Thirty ears of coal were scattered through these to feed the flames. It is believed by officials of the company that from sixteen to twenty men are entombed with no chance of escape.

Rescue parties reached the scene late Thursday and began the exploration of workings near the mouth of the mine. The disaster is the most serious in the history of mining in Oklahoma.

Besides the loss of life the damage to the mine will aggregate many thousands of dollars.

CONFESSES SHE POISONED BABES

Winifred Ankers Solves Mystery of Eight Deaths of Young Children in Institution.

New York, Feb. 24.—The confession of Winifred Ankers, a kitchen woman in the Brooklyn Nursery and Infants' Hospital, according to the police, solves the mystery of eight deaths of babies in the institution. She admits that she placed oxalic acid in the milk bottles of the infants.

The confession was obtained by a Police Lieutenant and a detective after two hours' examination of the woman, who had been under surveillance since autopsies developed the probability that the infants had been poisoned.

"On Saturday night, after the bottles had been prepared for the babies," the confession runs, "I put two or three drops of oxalic acid into the bottles. I did not do it with intent to kill the babies, but I wanted to get square with the nurses who were my enemies."

The police believe the Ankers woman is demented. Her story they regard as true, however.

Mrs. R. C. Skillman, of North Middletown, and Miss Adeline Brown, of Ruddle's Mill, were called here by the illness of their uncle, Mr. Charlton Lowe.

M. C. Club

An enjoyable meeting of the M. C. Club was held with Mrs. J. Smith Hays on Wednesday afternoon.

"Mt. Vernon" Tea.

The members of Hart Chapter, D. A. R., and Virginia Hanon Chapter, U. D. C., enjoyed a delightful "Mt. Vernon tea" with Mrs. Charles Nelson on Thursday afternoon.

To each guest, a post card was given, bearing the recital of an incident, and these when read connectedly completed a very entertaining description of "a trip to Mt. Vernon." The story was very cleverly written by Mrs. Nelson herself, and furnished one of the most enjoyable features of a thoroughly delightful occasion.

The house was charmingly decorated in American and Confederate flags, and presented a beautifully patriotic appearance.

The unveiling of a cherry tree and hatchet was followed by a guessing contest, in which a handsome picture of Mt. Vernon was offered to the guest who estimated nearest the correct number of cherries on the tree. This competition resulted in a tie between Mrs. Byrd Hodgkin and Mrs. J. R. Letton and the prize was awarded to Mrs. Hodgkin, when the tie was decided.

Mrs. Nelson was ably assisted in entertaining by the following ladies, who were attired in costumes and caps of the Martha Washington style with powdered hair and beauty patches on the face: Mrs. John G. Johns, Mrs. James Patterson, Mrs. Lucien Beckner, Mrs. Gordon Stevenson, Mrs. Ward Bush and Mrs. Steve K. Vaught.

Miss Amelia VanMeter and Mrs. Nancy Ragland McClure served coffee, delicious sandwiches and egg-kisses filled with whipped cream.

Tiny American flags floated from the top of each dainty meringue, and the patriotic colors of red, white and blue were carefully carried out.

Pictures of George and Martha Washington and of Stonewall Jackson were on display and tiny hatch-

THE KING'S BUSINESS

W. C. T. U. Notes

The W. C. T. U. is under obligations to the many friends who con- which to display their wares, and exchange last Saturday; also to Messrs. Grubbs and Benton for the free use of their beautiful window in which to display their wares, and extends thanks to each friend who helped make this exchange a great success.

The Executive Committee deemed it wise to postpone the time of Mrs. Taylor's coming because of the very inclement weather. It being impossible to mature necessary plans for the pleasure and profit of the public. However, at the next regular meeting of the W. C. T. U., a date will be fixed and all arrangements made to invite Mrs. Taylor, who has agreed to be our guest at any convenient time. The Union regrets this necessary change of program, but all things considered, it was deemed wiser to consult the comfort of our friends—the general public—and also provide for them a program, even more attractive, than the one which had been prepared.

The next regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held in the lecture room of the Methodist church, Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. All members are urged to be present, as business of importance will be considered.

A prominent Colorado man declares that any community that has banished the saloon needs to put in vigorous substitutes for it, or the last state of that place will be worse than the first. Another writer comes back with the retort that "a city no more needs a substitute for the saloon than we shall need a substitute for Satan in the millennium."

First Baptist Church

The First Baptist church will hold its regular services Sunday, and the usual mid-week prayer meeting Wednesday evenings.

A Sad Commentary on Winchester

One of our local pastors was asked by a stranger a few days ago, if Winchester could be depended upon to support a high, moral and intellectual entertainment. The friend of Winchester was compelled to say it could not, that a skating rink, a moving picture show or a cheap opera are the only kinds of entertainments that draw crowds in Winchester.

May God hasten the day when this may not be truthfully said.

Methodist Church

On the third Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, Rev. G. A. Joplin, of the Kentucky Sunday-school Association, gave an interesting talk to the Sunday-school workers of Winchester at the Methodist church. He tried to impress his hearers with the importance of the Institute work. We hope to have him hold an institute in Winchester in the near future.

Rev. Leonadis Robinson, pastor of the First Methodist church, delivered the first of a series of discourses, Sunday evening. His subject was "A Man's Religion and His Business." Some of the leading points were these: "There is no division between the secular and the sacred." Take your business into your religion. Take your religion into your business. Make religion your business, and not business your religion. Possess your business. Do not allow your business to possess you." (One beautiful illustration of how greed blinds the eyes was this: "Trinity church, at the head of Wall street, holds the commandments cut in gold, but gain getters never see them, nor the spire that points to heaven. They never look higher than the clock.")

His subject for next Sunday will be "A Man's Religion And His Church." All are invited. A cordial invitation is extended to strangers.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society met Tuesday afternoon. A large attendance and a very interesting program.

Emmanuel Episcopal Church

"Ash Wednesday," the first day of the Lenten Season, was observed at Emmanuel Episcopal church last Wednesday morning. Holy communion was celebrated by Archdeacon Wentworth at 8 a. m. At 11 o'clock, a special service appointed for the day was conducted by the Archdeacon on a topic, "The Ideal of the Church For Lenten Observation."

Professor W. C. Campbell, of New York, Field Secretary of the "Russell Sage Foundation," was a guest at the Brown-Proctoria Hotel Wednesday. Mr. Campbell has been traveling through the Cumberland and Blue Ridge mountains in the interest of the educational department of the Sage Foundation. He was in consultation with Archdeacon Wentworth, of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Lexington; Rev. Hutchens, who has charge of Mountain Missionary work for the Presbyterian church Board of Missions, and Prof. Cyrus Smith, of Berea College.

Archdeacon Wentworth has received a letter from President Frost, of Berea College, in which he says that 286 conversions were the result of the series of special services just closed, and of the earnest prayers of friends of the school, who have been praying of a blessing upon the services. No rector has been secured, as yet, to take the place of Mr. Banks, the former pastor of Emmanuel church.

Washington St. Presbyterian Church. Rev. Frank E. Moore, of Louisville, will conduct the services at the Washington Street church Sunday morning and evening.

The Korean Presbyterian church, U. S. A., is composed of 108,970 souls. These Korean converts contributed to the church last year $81,309.

Oh, be a boy with the boy, that is yours;

Play with him, stay with him, show him the way.

Walk with him, talk with him, take him outdoors;

Be his best friend, as you ought to, today.

Take him down town so the youngster may see

The right sort of man that you want him to be.

Don't be too busy to hear what he's telling.

Don't send him off when he comes to your knee

This sort of father disaster is spelling—

He's hungry for you and his pal you should be.

Spend all the time that you can with the lad.

He'll be a good boy, if you'll be a good dad.

First Christian Church

The congregation of the First Christian church is anticipating with much pleasure, the visit Sunday, February 25, of two of their leading missionaries, A. E. Corey, from China, and Dr. Royal J. Dye, from the Congo, in Africa. Dr. Dye's church in Africa is probably the most remarkable church in the world, in that, out of a membership of about seven hundred it supports seventy of its number as missionaries to the heathen in the surrounding country. In other words, every nine members supports the tenth as a missionary.

Associated Charities

During the past week this organization has furnished clothing to 8 children in order that they might attend Sunday school. The name of each child who has been provided for is sent to the Superintendent of his Sunday School and reports are expected from the Superintendent as to the child's regular attendance and good behavior.

In this way the General Secretary, Miss Peddicord, is enabled to keep an oversight over work done, to report results. It also aids in the selections of worthy cases.

To help those who are helpless, to raise the fallen, to encourage the discouraged, all this is only an intelligent self-protection. To ignore those in poverty, to despise those who have fallen by the way is stupidity and not worthy to be called selfish.

Next Tuesday afternoon and evening the management of the Auditorium Skating Rink will give all the proceeds to the Associated Charities.

FIRST LA GRIPPE, THEN BRONCHITIS.

Such was the case with Mrs. W. S. Bailey, McCreary, Ky. "My wife was taken down with a severe attack of la grippe, which ran into bronchitis. She coughed as tho' she had consumption and could not sleep at night. The Doctor's medicine gave her no relief and I was advised to try Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. The first bottle gave her so much relief that she continued using it and three bottles effected a permanent cure." Mr. W. S. Bailey says he is prepared to answer all inquiries promptly.

ABE ATTELL WHIPPED BY JOHNNY KILBANE

New Pugilistic Champion Comes Out of Fight Which Ten Thousand Sports Saw at Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 23.—A new pugilistic champion was made in the Vernon arena Thursday when Johnny Kilbane, of Cleveland, Ohio, decisively outfought, outgamed and outpunched Abe Attell in a twenty-round contest and at the close was awarded the featherweight title by Referee Charles Eytton.

Nearly 10,000 persons saw the fight. Fully 5,000 others were turned away at the gates. It was the greatest crowd that ever viewed a prize fight in Los Angeles. The receipts amounted to about $25,000. The men fought for a purse of $10,000 of which Attell was to receive $6,500, win or lose or draw, and Kilbane $3,500. Besides they agreed to divide evenly fifty per cent of the moving picture privilege.

Attell Clearly Outfought
Attell was clearly outfought. He boasted speed and wonderful cleverness were not in evidence. Kilbane made him look like a novice in nearly every round. Only in one round, the seventh, did Attell have a lead and in that it was not by any means as decisive as that of Kilbane in the remaining rounds.

Attell brought the wrath of the big crowd upon himself by foul tactics. Time and again he would hold Kilbane's left arm with both hands and once, in the eight, he grabbed Kilbane's left arm with both hands and tried to bend it back. In the third round he "heeled" the Cleveland boy while in every succeeding round his work called forth hisses from the crowds.

In the seventh round, after rushing into a clinch to avoid Kilbane's tattoo of his face and body, Attell butted the Cleveland boy with his head opening a great gash over

Attell Covered With Grease
At the beginning of the sixteenth round Referee Eytton stopped the fight, grabbed a towel and thoroughly wiped off Attell's body. It was seen to be covered with some greasy substance. Attell protested but the referee paid no attention to him.

Kilbane's work has a revelation even to his friends. Entering the ring with the odds two to one against him he never faltered for an instant. He fought fast and showed clever work, both with hands and feet. A straight left jab to Attell's nose or some left eye was his favorite blow. He would send this in and then, like a flash, cross with his right to the other side of Attell's head and jump back out of harm's way.

Attell seemed wild throughout the fight, but this was due as much to Kilbane's foot work as to any other cause.

Time and again the bewildered Attell tried in vain to corner the Cleveland man. The decision of Referee Eytton was received with cheers and Kilbane was carried from the building on the shoulders of his friends.

"I want to telephone to Mary," he said, meaning Mrs. Kilbane.

The Wheeler Sisters with The Wheeler Sisters Big Stock Company, at the Opera House all next week commencing Monday, February 26.

WHEELER SISTERS BIG STOCK COMPANY.

The management of the Winchester Opera House announces that he has secured the famous Wheeler Sister Big Stock Company for an entire week's engagement, commencing Monday, February 26.

It has been the subject of much comment in all the leading papers and possibly in every city of the United States that the good old time drama and melo-drama is a thing of the past. That the motion pictures has been the cause of this decline of the drama. This, however, is not true, but on the other hand the motion pictures is going to bring about the return of this class of attraction for the reason that have kept up interest in dramas by introducing it in almost every motion picture that is made. And now the public and motion picture lovers are clamoring for their old time favorites in real life. The melo-drama is "coming back" into its own. No better proof of the above statement can be had than the actual experience, in other words business, that the management of the Wheeler Sisters Big Stock Company the attraction at the Opera House all next week, has experienced this season. Capacity houses greeting them everywhere.

The Wheeler Sisters Big Stock Company is one of the strongest repertoire shows ever on tour. Carrying an acting company of sixteen people and six vaudeville acts.
